

Harvan Changes Ownership and Brand Name

Harvan Engineering Ltd. in Woodstock, Ontario, announced in September 2016 that the company will be known as Harvan Manufacturing Ltd. from now on as a result of recent changes to the company's ownership and management structure.

Harvan's President, Paul Vleuten, said that he and his wife, Jana, are now sole owners of Harvan Manufacturing Ltd. and "will continue to manage the day to day operations as we have for the past 10 years."

Harvan was established in 1984 by Paul's father, Harry Vleuten. The family-owned machine shop supplies shafts, gears and other machined components to customers across North America within the valve, agriculture, military and heavy transportation industries.

Harvan's licensed machinists, CWB certified welders, technologists, engineers and administrators, 60 members strong, are all committed to high quality and work closely with one another to meet their customers' production needs.
